

Calm Reconvening of Congress Presages Storms Due to Come

Only Variation in Usual Routine Comes in House, Which Adopts Resolution for Congressional Memorial Services for Woodrow Wilson—Both Branches Adjourn Quickly Until Noon Today Out of Respect for Dead.

All Bitterness in Senate

Curtis Chooses Jones as Whip—Insurgents Hold Balance of Power in Both Houses—LaFollette Greeted as He Takes Seat—No Action Likely Against Wheeler.

Washington, Dec. 1. — With an outward calm viewed generally as only the forerunner of storms that are to come, the 68th congress reconvened today for its final session. It must give way on next March 4 to the new congress elected last month.

The opening was brief and perfunctory. The senate was in session exactly 20 minutes and the house just 55 minutes. The only departure from the usual opening routine was the adoption by the house of a resolution for congressional memorial services for Woodrow Wilson, on December 15. Each house adjourned until noon tomorrow out of respect to the memories of members who have died recently, after it had adopted resolutions of regret. Before that, new members had been sworn in and a joint committee had been named to advise President Coolidge that congress was in session. This the committee did later in the day.

The executive informed the committee that tomorrow he would transmit the annual budget message and on Wednesday would send in his own annual message on the state of the union. This will not be delivered in person, thus obviating the necessity for a joint session.

Facing the necessity of passing more than a dozen annual appropriation bills in three months, congress will get down to business tomorrow. The house will receive the interior department supply measure and begin its consideration on Wednesday.

As fast as the appropriation measures are sent to the senate, others will be ready for house consideration. Not all of the time will be given to them, however, as house leaders plan from time to time to call up general legislation.

The programs in the senate will be similar, although the Republican steering committee will not put out a definite program until late in this week or early next week. Meanwhile, however, the senate will give attention to Muscle Shoals, which comes up Wednesday under a special order. The present expectation is that it will be sent back to the agricultural committee.

Senators Hinge All Bitterness.

While the new session of importance will be determined by the place on the calendar with which that came over from the last session, there is little prospect of action on any matters other than the supply bills. The Republicans insurgents will hold the balance of power and their leaders have declared they will continue a drive for their program with a view to taking their fight to the country again two years hence, when the 70th Congress is to be elected.

Whatever of increased bitterness that may have come out of the recent campaign is more apt to find expression in the senate. The Republicans there have read out of their party councils those senators on their side who actively opposed the election of President Coolidge.

All four of those senators were present today. Despite a rather severe cold, Senator LaFollette was in his place in the front row when the senate met. He arrived from Madison in the morning, and was greeted at the senate chamber by a number of his colleagues, including Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, who was his running mate on the independent presidential ticket.

Senator Wheeler received a hearty welcome from many of his colleagues on the Democratic side. Coincidentally with his return, Senator Robins of Arkansas, the minority leader, said there was no intention at this time of reading Mr. Wheeler out of the party because of his acceptance of a place on the independent ticket.

When the gavel fell in the house and senate promptly at noon today there were the usual opening day crowds in the galleries. Mrs. Coolidge and a party of friends occupied the president's box in the senate gallery.

Senators Seated at Party Whip.

There were three vacant seats in the senate because of the deaths of Senators Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut, and LeBaron B. Coit, of Rhode Island.

Two of those seats later were filled by the swearing in of new members, William M. Butler to succeed Senator Lodge, and Jesse H. Metcalf, to succeed Senator Coit. A third new senator, Rice W. Means of Colorado, also took the oath of office administered by Senator Cummings of Iowa, the president pro tempore. Mr. Means succeeds Alva B. Adams of Colorado, who was defeated in the recent election.

After Senators Curtis, Kansas, the Republican leader, and Robinson, Arkansas, the minority leader, had been named to the joint committee on notification of the President, the senate adopted resolutions on the deaths of Western Lodge, Coit, and Brandegee, and then adjourned out of respect to dead members. Senator Walter L. Jones of Washington, was elected by Senator Curtis as party whip.

Insurgents Hold Balance of Power.

With the one exception, in the adoption of the Wilson memorial resolution, the house procedure was identical. Four new members were installed, the Republicans and Democratic leaders, Longworth of Ohio, and Garrett of Tennessee, were named to the notification committee and resolutions of respect to the dead members — Representatives Green of Kansas,

25TH EXPOSITION

Illinois University Takes Purple Ribbon With Poland China Barrow—Same Herd Produces Another Champion

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Dec. 1.—Text book herdsman from a dozen American agricultural colleges fortified the case for "book learning" today by taking most of the honors in the opening day's competition at the 25th International Livestock exposition. When the awards of the state universities and agricultural colleges were computed, exponents of "practical farming" and barayard methods were routed.

The University of Illinois entry took the first purple ribbon championship with the year's champion Poland China barrow, and the same herd produced the winning barrow in the 150-160 pound class. A blue ribbon for the pen of ten of the same class also went to the University of Illinois.

In the Duro-Jersey class in the pig competition, Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college won highest honors, with the champion fat barrow of the year.

Cooperstown Sheep Wins.
Additional honors for the Minnesota herd came from the Berkshire barrow champion, in which the sophomore triumphed by a small margin over the Michigan Agricultural college. The champion pen of fat Berkshire barrows was from the University of Minnesota. Iowa State college, in the Chester-White division, produced the champion barrow of the year. Minnesota gave the show its champion pen of Chester-Whites but Iowa state was a close second.

The first blue ribbon for a breeder's entry came from the sheep houses, in which Canadian stockmen were generally triumphant throughout the day. Cecil Stubbs, Wheatley, Ont., produced the champion southdown wether, a yearling.

In the Shropshire division, the Cooperstown, N. Y., which also took the class championship last year, Purdue university took second place. In this competition, but came in a few minutes later with the prize winner in the yearling wether class.

First honors in the Cotswold class went to H. M. Lee, High Gate, Ontario, one of whose yearlings was picked for the international champion. F. R. Caspell, Hampton, Ont., took off the high award for a pen of cotswold lambs.

Ogdensburg, Dec. 1. — Fears for the safety of Joseph Rasbach and William Talbot, aviators, missing since yesterday when they failed to arrive here after taking off by seaplane, from Sacket Harbor, were dispelled tonight with the homecoming of Rasbach and news that Talbot was enroute to his home in New York city.

The aviators, who had started for Florida with Harry Dionne and Carl Groby, a week ago, were forced to land at Taylor's bay, 10 miles east of Alexandria Bay, when they encountered a snow storm. Dionne and Groby have been missing for more than a week, their wrecked plane having been washed ashore.

Rasbach and Talbot landed at Sacket Harbor during the flight, with Dionne and Groby because of a high windstorm. Dionne and Groby apparently were forced down in Lake Ontario. Rasbach and his partner decided yesterday to fly back to this city, abandoning hopes of reaching Florida. They came down in Taylor's bay and until this afternoon were shut off from communication with this city.

Rasbach was in his home here tonight recuperating from the ordeal, while Talbot left for his home at 418 West 110th street, New York city.

NO INTEREST CHARGED ON CERTAIN TAX STATEMENTS

Albany, Dec. 1. — No interest will be charged on amended 1923 personal income tax returns with payment of amounts due on income from certain unincorporated capital, if filed with the state tax commission on or before February 1, 1925, it was announced today.

Commissioner Mark Graves explained that in the case of some taxpayers their 1923 moneyed capital statements have not been determined by the New York city commission of taxes and assessments and the taxpayers consequently were unable to comply with the requirement calling for filing of returns today.

The tax commission had therefore decided, he said, to waive the penalty in such cases provided the returns are filed by February 1.

BAKERS INCORPORATE.
New York, Dec. 1. — Incorporation of the Bakery Bakers corporation with authorized capital of $1,000,000 with authorized paid up capital of $250,000, was announced today.

The new corporation was organized by the New York city commission of taxes and assessments and the taxpayers consequently were unable to comply with the requirement calling for filing of returns today.

NATIONAL GUARD IMPORTANT LINK

Without State Militia, Emergency Constabulary Would Be Needed, Says Weeks and Hines

Philadelphia, Dec. 1. — The importance of the nation of the national guard and of defense tests were emphasized today by Secretary of War Weeks and Major General John L. Hines, chief of staff of the army, before the opening sessions of a three day convention of the national guard association of the United States.

But for the national guard, Secretary Weeks declared, the states of the union would have to maintain a permanent constabulary at great expense. The secretary warned against governmental moves in the interest of economy, toward curtailing the expense of the military services.

The defense act of 1920 was termed a "splendid piece of legislation" by Major General Hines who said that "we have just commenced on the lesson we have learned from our World war experience."

Recommendation that General Pershing should be restored to active service, not as chief of staff, but as chairman of the joint army and navy board, was made by Brigadier General Milton A. Reckord of Maryland, president of the National Guard association.

In that capacity, General Reckord said, General Pershing would be able to keep in touch with the latest components of the army of the United States.

James A. Drayn, national chairman of the American Legion lauded the work of the national guard in the world war.

CREW UNDERGOES
GREAT HARSHIPS

White Skipper, 16 Negroes, Drift Five Days in Gales—No Food for 48 Hours

New York, Dec. 1. — Seventeen men—one white and 16 negroes—drifted about the gale swept Atlantic in the helpless wind-jammer Bluebird for five days, two of them foodless, before the schooner got a tow Bostonward. It was learned today when the ship's distress signals to find that Captain E. Bonomi and his negro crew had been foodless for two days. He refused to leave his ship with his crew, and the Fort Victoria proceeded on her way after giving him food.

Yesterday morning, on his return trip to New York, Captain Macdonald of the Victoria again sighted the Bluebird, still helpless before the winds and the 40-foot wave. Again he spoke to Captain Bonomi who again refused his offer. The schooner's master asked only that he radio for aid. The Fort Victoria's message caused the government to dispatch the Gretham to the scene of the wreck.

DRY LAW VIOLATORS DONATE
SMALL FORTUNE TO TREASURY

Utica, Dec. 1. — Twenty-one bootleggers, pleading guilty to charges of possession and sale of beer and liquor, at a special term of federal court here today, Judge Cooper presiding, paid fines aggregating $14,601. The individual assessments ran all the way from a lone dollar to $2,000.

Eighteen violators charged on Volstead law violation charges were fined $1,000 each and $2,000 each. The total fines for the session were $23,401.

FATALLY BITTEN BY DOGS.
St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 1. — The story of how a young girl, eight years old, was set upon by six savage dogs and practically torn to pieces, was told today when details of the tragedy reached this city from Kerkley's Harbor. The child died after a doctor had taken 75 stitches in an effort to close the wounds on her body.

EAST COURSES UNFAIR;
HARD SUBJECTS NEEDED

Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—The easy, flimsy studies of modern public school education are unfair to the boy of today, Dr. Charles Alexander Blakeslee, president of Union college, Schenectady, said in an address at a banquet in which he pleaded for a return to the "old fashioned" studies of the "Greek, Latin and mathematics" of the "classical tradition." The speaker, who declared, was usually not the one to be heard but the hardest and the ones he does not like. He said, and should be made to complete them "to toughen their mental fibers."

Dr. Blakeslee spoke before the St. Andrews society of Philadelphia, an organization of persons of Scotch descent.

SERGEANT AND CHIEF REFUSE TO QUIT POST

Mayor of Schenectady Orders Safety Commissioner to Demand Resignation and Put Men on Pension List

LAW TO BE EVOKED

Sealed Papers of Sain Captain, Said to Contain Many Notes Concerning Those Hindering His Activities, Not Located

Schenectady, Dec. 1. — While the city still was stirred tonight over two murders within a week and the apparent failure of the police to find clues to the perpetrators of either, interest centered in the proposed resignation of the chief and a detective sergeant to resign, and the probability of a legal battle to force their removal.

Mayor William W. Campbell today instructed George E. Ramsey, commissioner of public safety, to demand that Chief of Police James W. Rynek and Detective Sergeant Diamante Ragueli voluntarily resign and accept pension grades.

Chief Rynek declared he would not resign on the basis of charges contained in a letter written to Mayor Campbell a month ago in which he was accused by Acting Police Captain Albert L. Youmans, who was fatally shot Friday night while in performance of duty, of obstructing the work of the vice squad. Sergeant Ragueli indicated he would take similar action after discussing the case with his attorney in the morning.

Will Seek to Force Removal.
Mayor Campbell then indicated that if the chief and the sergeant would not resign voluntarily he would seek by due process of law to oust them from office. The mayor, in his letter to the commissioner, declared the situation in the city was such as to demand the sternest action on the part of the city administration and declared the police force required a thorough and complete re-organization.

Meanwhile plans were being made for the public safety commissioner to demand the resignation of the chief and effort was being made in a search for sealed packets containing notes of his investigation since he was appointed head of the vice squad, means ago.

Members of the slain captain's family last night made public a demand that Mayor Campbell should charging Chief Rynek with obstructing his efforts to close the resort section and declaring Sergeant Ragueli and others of the force were not giving him the co-operation he had been informed would be available. The letter, printed in the morning papers, aroused further interest in the case, citizens regarding it as information which had been withheld from them for some time.

Mayor Campbell declared he had received the letter and had discussed it in October with Captain Youmans, but that he had considered at that time it contained no charges upon which he could base executive action.

Ragueli Feels Self Qualified.
Chief Rynek declared today he had gone to the mayor some time ago, expressed the desire to complete in October, his service of 42 years in the police department and had offered to resign if there were charges against him. He said Mayor Campbell then had told him "to forget the charges" and to continue in office until October at least. The chief declared he would fight removal from office on any such charges as contained in Captain Youmans' letter and that any other charges not made would have to be proved before he would quit the force.

Sergeant Ragueli asserted he still was able to do a day's work and "did not need any pension." He said, completed just 26 years' service. He said, and that while his own work had succeeded to such an extent it would be difficult for the city to find a capable man to succeed him. He declared he had heard he had been charged with having connections with resort life in the city, but that he could prove such charges now were unfounded.

Sealed records of Captain Youmans, search for which now is being made, were believed to have been deposited in his locked headquarters, but could not be found there or among his effects by members of his family who sought them. It was said they contained detailed notes made by the captain on his rounds, including the names of persons he suspected of interfering with law enforcement work and of combating his efforts.

Through Ramsey Presided.
Directors of the Schenectady Chamber of Commerce, who yesterday by resolution extended to Mayor Campbell full financial and moral support in combating what they termed a dangerous situation, tonight entertained the mayor at luncheon in a private club and later went into conference with him over plans for what they characterized as the future safety of the city. Led by William Dalton, president of the chamber, the directors took turns in questioning Mayor Campbell as to what next was planned to be done.

The mayor declared it was his intention to reorganize the police department, bringing in the city's best and most able men available in the class. George F. Campbell, former head of the state department, was suggested as a possibility.

It was planned, the mayor said, to bring in outside investigators to

TROOPERS MAKING RUM RUNNING DRIVE

Every Available Man on Favorite Trail in North—Snow Aids Authorities

Lake Placid, Dec. 1. — Concentrating every available man on the Pokenamophone trail, between Keaville and Elizabethtown, in an effort to stem the ever increasing flow of wet goods across the Canadian border, destined to quench the thirsts of Americans during the holiday season, State Troopers, dry officials, and custom men are spreading a cordon over this territory which is expected to result in wholesale arrests.

Heavy snowfall and freezing weather have made the back roads, which are usually favored by the rum runners, almost impassable, and in several instances captures have been made by the dry officials after their quarry had been forced to abandon their stalled machines and make their getaway on foot.

Ice sheeted roads now found in this region are not conducive to high speed, which is the principal factor of the bootlegger's safety. Rum runners attempt to escape from his pursuers, and only on rare occasions will the pilot of a rum car take death in an while threading the snake-like curves of the mountain highway.

Captures of rum runners comprising six cars, one of the largest single captures ever made in this region, was made by a force of dry agents, comprising members of the border patrol, customs officials and State Troopers, and resulted in the confiscation of 35 cases of ale, 10 cases of wine, and two cases of choice liquors, beside the arrests of four of the alleged rum runners.

The pilots of these cars, when arraigned before United States Commissioner Patterson, at Plattsburg, gave their names as William E. Dement and Thomas M. Whelan of Washington, D. C., Arthur H. Morrison of Plain, and Joseph H. Morrison of Stoughton, Mass. Two other drivers made their escape in the woods bordering the highway when they saw capture imminent.

'SAFETY FIRST'
SLOGAN SELFISH

DuPont Official Says It Means "Save Self"—Would Substitute French Phrase

New York, Dec. 1. — "Safety First" is a selfish slogan, said an official of the DuPont company today, in a speech before the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Mr. DuPont asserted that the slogan was "generally used to mean the safety of the individual first and everyone else second," and he urged the substitution of the French phrase, "sauve qui peut," which means "save who can," because the French "save" is not selfish, but essentially altruistic.

Henry Zoelly, Swiss inventor, speaking before the railway division of the society, predicted that the turbo-locomotive, newest development in the transportation field, would produce revolutionary traction changes throughout the world. He said the steam locomotive was "pathetically lagging in the race to attain efficiency and capacity" and that nearly 50 per cent economy in fuel would be realized by the turbo-locomotive.

Dr. William F. Durand, professor emeritus of mechanical engineering in Leland Stanford university and former member of the faculty at Cornell university, in the new president of the society, was chosen by mail vote of the 28,000 members, and retired from his professorship at Leland Stanford to take over his new duties.

PILOT HOUSE BELONGED ON
U. S. FISHERIES STEAMER

Woods Hole, Mass., Dec. 1. — Coast Guard patrol which have scanned the beaches of Elizabeth Island and Martha's Vineyard since the finding yesterday of wreckage at Cuttyhunk, believed to represent the loss of a ship, were withdrawn today when the United States fisheries commission steamer Fish Hawk reported on arrival here that her decks had been swept by a storm off Cuttyhunk late Saturday night. The "pilot house" and "log book" discovered on the beach by coast guards were identified as the coast guard's and the quartermaster's notebook from the Fish Hawk.

The mark of the submarine base, U. S. New London, and addressed to "Medical Officer, U. S. S. Camden," was still unaccounted for tonight but no importance was attached to that part of the wreckage.

APPOINTMENT FIELD OFF TRAIN.

Larchmont, Dec. 1. — The body of a woman found on the New York, New Haven & Hartford train near Larchmont last night was identified today as that of Mrs. E. B. Bennett of this town. Counselor Fingert and the woman had apparently fallen from a train.

and in search for the members of the Springfield and Capital Traction. The discovery of the body of the woman, who was believed to have been the wife of the man who was killed in the accident, was a surprise to the community.

Police on duty in the court section tonight were searching to question suspicious characters and to detect if in fact there was any show of resistance with weapons.

Man and Wife Sit on Ledge as Flames Devour Night Clothing— Spectacular Rescue—Leap to Court Fatal

New York, Dec. 1. — Seven persons lost their lives, and 10 were injured, in a fire which today swept through a West 32d street rooming house.

The origin of the fire has not been determined. Search was being made for a street car motorman who had run his car over a fire hose which had been stretched from a hydrant to the burning house, severing the tubing and delaying the firemen fully 10 minutes.

The dead women are Mrs. Freda Daecher, 28, and Miss Mital Rehak, 23, and Mrs. Mary Donnelly. The two former were caught in their rooms on the top floor of the four-story structure. Miss Rehak's body lay in her room. Mrs. Daecher, unconscious, was found in a rear court yard to which she had made her way through the flames and smoke. She died a few hours later in a hospital.

Jack Reid, 28, who also roomed on the top floor, died in a hospital of injuries received when he fell to the street in attempting the "human fly" road to safety down the face of the house.

Two Spanish youths, known only to fellow lodgers as Louis and Emanuel, died in their top floor room.

James Kelly, son of the landlady Mrs. Anna Kelly, saved his sister Anna by swinging her from the window of a fourth floor room to the projecting ledge of the adjoining building. Mrs. Kelly jumped the foot floors to the court yard, and suffered internal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cooper sat on the window ledge of their third floor room with the flames creeping up the night clothes on their bodies. They were rescued by a fireman who reached them. A fireman who reached them. A fireman who reached them.

Uldrich Bodeman jumped from a second floor window and suffered internal injuries from which he later died, and George Moore, his wife and son, Robert, were burned about their heads and faces before firemen carried them to the street from the third floor.

'BEAN KING' SPENDS
QUIET DAY IN JAIL

Attorney Says Sands Will Be Released on Bail When Arraigned Today

Albion, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Lewis E. Sands, "bean king," will spend the night in the Orleans county jail, without bail, and tomorrow will be taken to Medina and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Allen W. Richmond, before whom the grand larceny warrant was returnable.

It was planned to arraign Sands tonight, but at the request of his attorney, the hearing was postponed until tomorrow.

Sands spent the day at the jail quietly. Most of the morning he slept on a cot in the hospital section on the third floor and in the early afternoon he was visited by the members of his family. About 2 o'clock his attorney, Sanford T. Church, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Gerks, his business manager, and her lawyer, Thelbert Chamberlain, of Rochester, visited him. The four were in conference for several hours.

At the conclusion of the consultation, Attorney Church announced that he had not yet completed the plan for Sands' defense. Sands would be released on bail tomorrow, however.

JURY FOR MRS. SANDS
SEVEN MEN NAMED

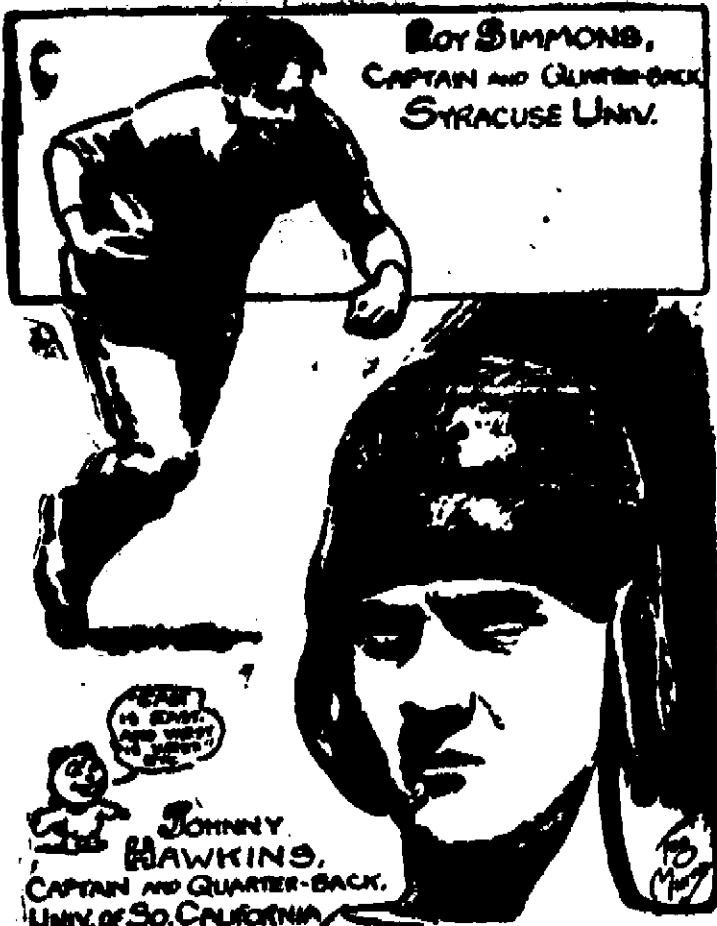

New York, Dec. 1. — A jury composed of seven men was named today to try the case of Mrs. Anna Sands charged with the murder of Frederick Schmeidler, a Bronx contractor.

Mrs. Sands was found guilty of first degree murder by the first jury to hear evidence against her. She was sentenced to death by electrocution in the state prison, and was confined to the death house for several months.

It is the plan to have a new trial when the court of appeals ruled last month that a former had been used in getting the conviction.

NORWICH HAS BIG YEAR

High School Football Team Wins Every One of Eight Games Played, Tying Up 266 Points to 22 by Opponents—Harold Raynager, Brother of Coach Raynager, Individual Star, with Fourteen as Runner-up.

Norwich, Dec. 1.—The Norwich high school football team has just completed a successful year on the gridiron, collecting 266 points to 22 by their eight opponents. The team's only loss was to the senior team when they took the field with a 12 to 13 count. Much credit for the glory of the team is given to the work of Coach Raynager, former Norwich star.

In the matter of individual scoring, Harold Raynager, brother of Coach Raynager, leads the list with 19 touchdowns and seven successful try-kicks to his credit. Leonard Fontaine is runner-up with a total of 23 points, while Manning, the Norwich quarterback, is in third place.

The results of the games played follow:

Norwich, 26; Cortland Central, 9.
Norwich, 26; Oneida High, 7.
Norwich, 13; Syracuse Central, 12.
Norwich, 40; Auburn High, 9.
Norwich, 44; Sunnyside High, 9.
Norwich, 24; Hamilton High, 7.
Norwich, 19; Utica F. A., 9.
Norwich, 10; Binghamton Central, 7.
Totals—Norwich 266; opponents 22.

EAST LOSES GRIDIRON HONORS

Middlewest Teams Not Only Win Nine Out of 15 Intercollegiate Contests, but Capture Major Contests—East Fattens Average Chieftly at Expense of Southern Teams.

New York, Dec. 1.—The mantle of intercollegiate gridiron supremacy has passed from the east to the middle west for the first time in football history.

Three outstanding intercollegiate battles remain to be played on the Pacific coast but these cannot affect the final standings, which, based upon analysis of the regular playing schedule just completed, show that the Atlantic seaboard no longer can boast of a pre-eminent place on the gridiron map.

These figures show that the middle west captured 9 out of 15 intercollegiate games, for a percentage of .571 as compared with the east's record of 13 victories and 12 defeats for a mark of .521.

The comparative performance of east and middle west, however, were not as even as the figures might indicate. The middle west not only scored more points in nine out of 15 games but included practically all the most important contests among its victories. The east fattened its average chiefly in competition with the south.

MUGGERS NEED MATERIAL

Yankee Pitcher After Urban Shocker of Brown, Shortstop Boley of Outlets To Secure Victim From Street—Carroll, Scott, and Wood Hitting (Hitting also Wood).

New York, Dec. 1.—Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees is in the field for Urban Shocker of St. Louis. Shortstop Boley of Baltimore, a left handed pitcher to assist Herb Pennock, a first class catcher and a hard hitting outfielder, he admitted today while stopping over here on his way from St. Petersburg, Fla., to the minor league meetings in Hartford, Conn.

Shocker, according to Huggins, is on the market and several clubs are after him. Huggins, however, believes that New York can offer better trade material than its competitors are able to furnish. He declared, however, that Walter Hoyt, youthful Yankee batsman, will not go to St. Louis in exchange for the premier moundman of the Browns.

The New York club is ready to buy Boley from Jack Dunn at a reasonable price. Huggins said, for it is realized that Everett Scott, dean of all shortstops, cannot go on forever. Boley, he said, suffered in spirit because he was kept in the minors while at his best game, but should regain his confidence as a member of a major league team.

Slattery Beats McLoughlin.

Buffalo, Dec. 1.—Jimmy Slattery, 161, Buffalo middleweight, won a rousing decision over Vic McLoughlin, New York, 164, in a six-round bout here tonight. Slattery had the better of some exchanges. In the fourth round a right cross knocked McLoughlin sagging into the ropes, almost out. Vic took a heavy punishment in the fourth and fifth rounds and was badly outpunched in the sixth, but, although punished, held his feet.

Corbett Tells How He Licked Choyinski and Sullivan

Goodman Jan's Own Story of How, Told at 2, He Became World's Champion

"In a near-by neighborhood there was a boy about my own age by the name of Joe Choyinski," James J. Corbett tells readers of December Heart's International. "He was athletic champion among the Jewish folks. From time to time the Irish and Jewish boys met and each began to boast about their own special champion. The result was a fight between Joe and me one Saturday afternoon in the hills. I won. A year later, another meeting was arranged, and again I was the victor. Little did I realize then that this Jewish rivalry would be carried on later in the prize ring."

"When I was twenty-three many were singing my praises, but there also were those who scoffed at the idea that I was the best boxer on the Coast. It was claimed that Joe Choyinski was an infinitely better man than I."

"On a large anchored in Bonanza Bay, at seven a. m., one blinding day in June, Choyinski and I met. I did not let him suspect that my right thumb, which had been thrown out of joint two weeks before, was not yet healed."

"Due to a mix-up in gloves, I used three-ounce boxing gloves and he wore a pair of heavy riding gloves with ribs on the back that cut like razors. Thus began the contest since declared the bloodiest since bare-knuckle days."

"In the third round I dropped Choyinski. In my effort to finish him, I threw all my power into a left hook for his chin. Choyinski shifted, the blow landed on the top of his head and the terrific pain in my left hand, as I afterwards learned, was caused by the breaking of two knuckles."

"There I was, right hand useless, left hand in little better condition, in a contest to the finish with a lion-hearted foe who was just beginning to warm up to twenty-eight of the most terrific rounds ever fought in the history of the ring."

"When the twenty-eighth gong sounded Choyinski leaped for me like a tiger, knowing that one good punch would finish me. I bluffed a right jab. Choyinski ducked his head almost to my waist-line. I saw a chance and brought my left up in inner-cut fashion and landed on Choyinski's chin—not with my hand or my useless knuckles, but with my wrist."

"Like a man felled by a mallet, Choyinski lay on deck. When the slowly counting referee reached 'ten' he slapped me on the back, and I would have fallen if Delaney had not caught me and carried me to my corner."

"Three years later in 1892, I chal-

Alone, Corbett in rugged battle at 26, and, before, as he landed when he knocked out John L.

lenged the seven-beaten John L. Sullivan. As the ring penmen wrote of him, Sullivan was 'the irresistible force and the immovable object of pugilism.' My friends looked at me with amazement and were not slow in letting me know that they considered it suicide for me to climb into the same ring with the murderous Sullivan. But I went ahead and we met on September 7, 1892, in New Orleans, the gamblers offering odds as high as eight to one in favor of Sullivan."

"Down through the mob of excited fans I went into that ring, and I believe the cheers they gave me that night were tinged with pity. Six feet one in height, I still was thin. In contrast with Sullivan I must have looked frail, for he was nearly forty pounds heavier."

"It is not necessary to dwell upon the twenty rounds that preceded that in which I knocked Sullivan out. He had hardly laid a glove on me during the entire twenty-one rounds."

Having thus sketched his quick climb to fame, Corbett proceeds to give readers of December Heart's International the rules of health and eating by which he was changed from a weakling into a man strong enough to knock out the man who had been considered the most powerful of all boxers.

MOGULS HEAR MANY RUMORS

Accurate Information of "Big Deal" Bells Down to One Sale Whereby Erickson Becomes Property of Toronto—Opening Season at Hartford Today.

Hartford, Conn., Dec. 1.—Minor league magnates rubbed elbows with their major league brethren on a common stamping ground today in the sustained "lobbying" which marked the eve of the opening session of the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Lobby gossip had several minor clubs changing hands, mediocre stars bringing fabulous sums and legislation which will revolutionize the industry of organized baseball being adopted. But out of the mass of rumors which eked about the hotel, only one bit of qualified news was available—the purchase of pitcher Eric Erickson, former Washington right hander, by the Toronto Internationalists from the Minneapolis club of the American association. The deal was consummated by Lawrence Salmon, president of the Toronto club and George H. Belden, president of the Minneapolis club. Erickson, played semi-professional baseball around the lots of Buffalo last season, refusing to report to Minneapolis.

The opening session of the convention is scheduled for 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when the reports of the officers will be read, committees appointed and routine business transacted. This will be an open meeting attended by both major and minor league magnates, managers and players. The Wednesday session will terminate with a dinner at which the major league magnates will be the guests of their minor hosts.

Thomas Sawyer Fined $10.

Thomas Sawyer, a porter at the Oneonta hotel, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by Albert Wheeler and turned over to Patrolman Harry Cross, charged with disorderly conduct under section 720 of the penal law was arraigned last night before City Judge Lee D. VanWort and fined $10.

In response to the court's question, it appeared that Sawyer had worked at the hotel for five years and always had been hard working and exemplary in his conduct. After a long period of work without sleep, he is said to have become intoxicated with the result that trouble between him and Wheeler followed, resulting in Wheeler making a complaint. Sawyer was given until this morning to pay his fine.

Feather in McDonough.

While Fred Russell, a full-blooded Indian, was being taken to jail at Norwich charged with second degree assault, he retained the shrewd with him of the parties which is said to be reaching the waste of McDonough and coming out on occasion into the open, killing sheep and badly following on one of his victim's farmer's wagon in which a hog was being carried to market. One farmer, he said, saw the animal in the road but when he tried to run it down the animal leaped out of reach. Others are claiming in the heat in the hope of winning the state bounty of $20.

Bump on Train at New Orleans.

BREWER AVENUE NO MORE

Every Property Owner of That City Avenue Applies to Board of Public Works for Change of Name to Woodside Avenue.

"We don't like to have our mail coming addressed to Brewery avenue, nor in fact do we like some of the implications sometimes drawn from the name Brewery avenue," said Giles Vorhees that thoroughfare in making a plea before the Board of Public Works at their regular meeting last evening. "All of the property owners on that street have signified their desire to have the name of the avenue changed to Woodside avenue."

After a slight consideration of possible resultant confusion, the board gave its unanimous consent to the unanimous petition of residents of the avenue. And then the jolly party of residents of Woodside avenue departed in a happy mood.

A number of matters in connection with the closing of the year were considered, but no action was taken in most of the cases.

The regular bills were audited, but the bill of Ide M. and William Hunt of 38 Center street for slight damages said to be due to a change in the grade of Center street during the recent paving was rejected, it being the opinion of the board that which had been previously fixed.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Baker, Commissioners Hathaway and Lunn, and City Engineer Gurney.

A TEACHER'S CONFERENCE

Instructors for City and Three Otsego Districts Meet in Oneonta.

Announcement is made that the annual teachers' conference for the southern districts of Otsego county will be held on Thursday and Friday, December 13 and 14, at the High school building in this city. The districts which will be represented are the city schools of Oneonta, Dr. George J. Dann, superintendent; second Otsego district, Frederick Strong, superintendent; fourth district, J. E. Frederick, superintendent; and the fifth district, Harrison Coscart, superintendent.

Full program of the conference will appear in The Star on an early date. It is understood that the list of speakers will include speakers from the Department of Education, Oneonta Normal school, from New Rochelle and the Deputy Superintendent for the city of Buffalo.

Charles Hodge Enlists.

Charles Hodge of 38 Center street has been enlisted by Sergeant Harry Diener of the Oneonta office of the United States Army Recruiting service. Mr. Hodge enlisted for service in the infantry at the Hawaiian Islands.

According to Sergeant Diener, the present policy of accepting only recruits of high standards, will be followed in filling these desirable quotas. Mr. Hodge is scheduled to sail from the army base at Franklin, January 8, in the army transport Campbell, stopping at southern ports and going by way of the Panama canal to San Francisco and thence to Hawaii.

TAKE STUDEBAKER AGENCY

WHEELER-DIBBLE MOTORS APPOINTED DISTRIBUTORS FOR FOREIGN MAKE OF CARS.

H. B. Wheeler and S. R. Dibble Distributors For Studebaker Complete Line of Motor Cars—Service Station and Up-to-date Show Rooms to be Located at Wheeler Garage on Broad Street.

Yesterday the Wheeler-Dibble Motors, a newly organized company composed of H. B. Wheeler and S. R. Dibble, both well known business men of this city, also associated in the Wheeler and Dibble garage, was appointed distributors for the complete line of motor cars produced by the Studebaker company, and immediately a service station and show rooms will be arranged at the Wheeler garage on Broad street.

A sales organization is to be perfected under the direction of C. E. Seelye, a well known automobile salesman of this city who has been engaged with the Studebaker line for some time. A first class show room, arranged according to the best city practice, will immediately be constructed along the front of the Wheeler garage.

A service station carrying a complete line of parts will be opened as soon as possible under the direction of Carl Blanchard, who has already relinquished his duties with the Wheeler Motors of this city. Mr. Blanchard is a well known Oneonta mechanic and will also do general repairing, being already prepared for adjustments and minor repairs. Another skilled Studebaker mechanic will also be secured, one who has had factory as well as practical experience.

A larger line of accessories will be stocked at the Wheeler garage as a result of this move, there being plenty of room there for the general garage business as well as the Studebaker line.

Said Mr. Wheeler yesterday in commenting on the Studebaker line, "We feel that in the Studebaker we have secured an excellent product, one of the oldest established companies in the business, and a concern which includes in its models a car for every need and purse."

"We have a few models of these cars which may be seen in the city at present, and as soon as possible other types will be secured."

NOLDA ADMITS CHARGES

Man Who was Arrested by Father Charged with Disorderly Conduct Given Six Months Suspended Sentence and Put on Probation.

John Nolda, who was arrested by his father, George Nolda, who alleged that he created a disturbance in his parents' home, East End, Saturday night, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct under Section 720 of the Penal law, when arraigned before Justice of the Peace, E. E. Smith at West Oneonta yesterday.

Nolda, according to his father who appeared against him, came home showing the influence of liquor and used loud and threatening language and also possessed a revolver which frightened members of the household.

Justice of the Peace Smith fined Nolda $25 and gave him a suspended sentence of six months in the Albany county penitentiary. During the six months period, Nolda was placed on probation to Deputy Sheriff Raymond Church to whom he must report once a week. The court admonished the defendant to stop his disorderly conduct and told him that his suspended sentence in the Albany penitentiary would begin immediately upon his failing to live up to proper parole regulations.

Nolda was arrested and placed in the Oneonta lockup by Deputy Sheriff Church and Patrolman Otto after the officers had been called to the Nolda home on the complaint of the young man's father. The police allege they found him hiding under a pile of straw in the barn. He has frequently been in trouble with the police on other occasions.

SCHENEVUS-WORCESTER NIGHT.

Oneonta Lodge, 1312, R. P. O. E., celebrates Wednesday—Byrne to Speak.

On Wednesday evening Oneonta lodge, 1312, R. P. O. E., is to celebrate Schenevus and Worcester night in connection with their regular meeting which promises to be one of the best held by that growing order. Sixable delegations are expected from those villages. A number of candidates from each is to be initiated.

One of the usually fine Elks dinners is to be served at 6 o'clock that evening.

The speaker of the evening is to be Senator William Byrne of Albany, a prominent Elk and an orator of widely recognized ability. His topic will be "Our Duty as Elks to the Boy and Girl of Today," and all may rest assured that much benefit may be gained from this speaker's interpretation of such a vital subject.

Home Guards Elect Officers.

About 30 members of the Home Guards of the Methodist Episcopal church met in the church parlors yesterday afternoon and held their regular business session and then elected officers. The topic of the day was "The Life of Jacob Kim." The officers elected were: President, Susan Littlefield; vice president, Myrtle Munson; secretary, Harriett Gardner; treasurer, Evelyn Frost; song leader, Esther Hantson. Cocoa and crackers were served as refreshments.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE

Posters, Window Cards and Other Material Placed on Display in Campaign Against White Plague.

Posters, window cards and other advertising material for the 1934 Christmas Seal sale have been placed on display today by M. O. Keenan, chairman for Oneonta for the Otsego County Tuberculosis and Public Health association.

The posters appeal to everyone to support the annual sale of seals to raise funds for local health work in 1935. The seals will be on sale from December 1 to Christmas day.

The small 11 by 14 poster and window card will attract particularly all persons who love children and to whom Christmas, the children's holiday, has a meaning. It shows Santa Claus with his left arm around a beautiful child, smiling in his right hand a design of the Christmas seal, painted from life by George V. Curtis, the New York artist who designed both the child and Santa Claus were the 1934 seal.

The larger poster represents a girl in winter costume breaking through a Christmas holly wreath and holding a design of the seal. The small seal cutout which stands upon show cases and in windows, represents the seal supported by two gnomes, one holding aloft a spray of holly, the other a sprig of mistletoe. These figures are suggestive of the fairy stories so loved by children.

Patrons of the Huntington Memorial library are reminded that stormy weather is hard on books. Public library books are necessarily subjected to rather strenuous treatment at best, but a bit of paper wrapped around a book while it is being carried to or from the library in a snow storm, will do much to preserve it.

Returning borrowed books on time is a distinct courtesy to the librarians and to those whose names are on the waiting list.

Although the library was open for only 22 days during November the circulation for that month was next to the largest for any month during the year. The number of books withdrawn reached 10,370, the next highest number being 9,219 which was reached in March.

Recovering From Operation.

Raymond Safford, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Safford, of 18 Kearney street, who was taken to the Parish hospital on Thanksgiving day for an operation for the relief of rupture, is convalescing. Dr. McClellan was the attending physician and Drs. Latcher and Brinkman were called when the operation became advisable.

The coffee served at the Masonic supper last evening was the Maxwell House and was furnished by W. R. Fingman. advt. 11.

COOPER-ERKINE ENGAGEMENT.

Paul Feinmore Cooper Engaged to Chicago Young Lady.

Cooperstown, Dec. 1. — The engagement of Paul Feinmore Cooper of Cooperstown and Albany to Miss Marion Erskine of Chicago will doubtless prove of interest to many residents of this vicinity. It is announced that the wedding will take place in the early summer.

Miss Erskine, who was introduced to society last season, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert deWolfe Erskine of Chicago.

Health Much Improved.

Friends of Harry Morse, a former resident of Oneonta, will be gratified to learn that he is greatly improved in health after a two months' stay in an infirmary where he has been recuperating from an illness. While enroute to his home in Gloversville recently, Mr. Morse stopped in this city for a short visit with his sister, Mrs. E. G. Rowley.

MARRIAGES.

Cousin-Sister.

With the return to Oneonta of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Come to visit their marriage November 26 at Andover, Maine, the home of the bride, who was Miss Amy A. Worth. Few particulars about the wedding have been learned, the young couple keeping the affair rather quiet, but it is said that they were obliged to walk a distance of several miles in the woods of Maine before reaching any means of travel to a minister.

While the bride is a stranger in the city, the many friends of Mr. Come, son of Mrs. Miss Come of the Plains, will unite in congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Come is engaged as a chauffeur for Hon. D. F. Wilber, and is very capable and of excellent habits. They will make their home for the winter at least, with Mrs. Come at the Plank and Andover is near the summer camp of Mr. Wilber at Upper Dam and doubtless it was during the stay of the groom there the past summer that he became acquainted with his bride.

Hundreds Couples at Dance.

There were about 100 couples in attendance at the regular semi-monthly dance of the St. Mary's Men's club held last evening at the school building of that parish all of whom had a most enjoyable evening. Excellent music was provided by Dewey's Imperial and the newly refurnished floor was the cause of considerable favorable comment.

High Blood Pressure

This is not a disease in itself but the symptom of a disease. Nature's warning signal. It may mean kidney involvement, arterio sclerosis, nervous disturbance, abnormal heart action. These are a few of the many causes leading to high blood pressure. Spinal adjustments remove the cause and normal conditions result.

RESPECTED ARENA RESIDENT.

Dies Early Monday Morning at Parham Hospital.

Mick J. Hitt, a well known and respected farmer of Arena, who was brought ten days ago to the Parham hospital, in Oneonta, where he underwent a serious operation for appendicitis, died at 2:17 a. m. on Monday morning, December 1. His condition from the first had been critical, and his death was not unexpected. The body will be taken Wednesday morning to Arena, where the funeral, conducted by Rev. Mr. Braland, will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in the cemetery at that place.

Mr. Hitt was born April 1, 1884, at Greenville, Sullivan county, and was a son of Melvin and Augusta (Ruff) Hitt. He was married at Cabin Hill July 22, 1908, to Maggie Banks, who survives him, with nine children, William, Leonard Leroy, Lavina and Charles Henry, the oldest being 15 years and the youngest five months old. For the past twenty years he had been a resident of Arena, where he was a member of the Adventist church. He was a man of the character and of firm Christian faith, and the sympathy of all will be extended to the family so greatly bereaved.

Also surviving him are his mother, Mrs. A. M. Williams of 5 Cooperley avenue, this city, by two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Page of Oneonta, and Mrs. Anna Bullock of Loch Sheldrake, and by two brothers, Fred M. Hitt of Binghamton, and Ford Hitt of Malone.

Physically Disqualified.

LaMont H. Rutan, 11 Grove street, who enlisted in the army at the Oneonta office in charge of Sergeant Harry Dineen, was deeply disappointed by the result of a final examination which he took at the main recruiting station in Syracuse.

Mr. Rutan was disqualified because of physical disability. Recruiting officers reported that Mr. Rutan was willing to waive his disability if permitted to enlist but the regulations governing such cases did not permit such action.

Leaving for Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hunt of Morris leave on Wednesday by motor car for an extended stay in Florida.

EXPERT DISCOVERS PYORRHEA CAUSE

Bad Teeth Lead to Fruits in Nutrition

Pyorrhea, the cause and cure of pyorrhea, mouth sores, have been discovered by an American dentist working in French laboratories.

He is Dr. Charles R. Hamby of San Francisco and Los Angeles, one of the organizers of the E. R. Parker System of Dentistry and author of numerous works covering all phases of dental art.

Doctor Hamby asserts that the modern theory that many tooth aches are caused by bad teeth must give place to the real fact, which is that bad teeth, and especially pyorrhea, are the result of faults in nutrition.

This established, Doctor Hamby asserts that he has ample proof that correction of these faults in nutrition will cure pyorrhea and many other diseases to which teeth and gums are heir.

Considering the recent estimate that four out of five persons above the age of forty suffer from pyorrhea, the importance of Doctor Hamby's discovery has been emphasized by French authorities who have been following his experiments.

"Get rid of excess lime and you get rid of pyorrhea," stated Doctor Hamby.

The Pacific coast expert said that, to eliminate excess lime, he recommended "a can of tomatoes every day, lots of tomato ketchup, plenty of cranberries, and all sour fruits in season."

For the benefit of lay readers Doctor Hamby prepared the following "brief" of the pyorrhea case:

A—Pus flow.

B—Inflamed, puffy gums, loose teeth.

C—Result, for teeth.

D—Diagnosis Pyorrhea (Pyos-pas, Kries-flow).

Cause: Lime formation; mechanical irritation.

Chemical aspect: Encrusted peridental membrane, covering tooth roots.

Treatment: Dissolve the lime, inhibit formation.

How: Acid treatment dissolves lime. Acid foods, therefore, are necessary.

Cranberries, canned tomatoes, using all the juice, sour fruits, tomato catsup.

No alcohol or stimulants or tea, which dilute the acid.

Laxatives and cathartics until complete intestinal cleaning. Enemas three times per week.

Induce active perspiration. Eat less bread, cereals, milk—all lime contain.

Dr. Godshall Holds Conference.

Dr. Moses S. Godshall, district superintendent, Methodist Episcopal church, is holding a series of conferences with the pastors of the various churches in his territory. The purpose of the meetings is to study the evangelistic work for the ensuing year. Dr. Godshall has prepared a pamphlet for use in this connection. Yesterday Superintendent Godshall was in Harbor, and on Wednesday he will hold morning and afternoon sessions in the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city at which time the ministers in this vicinity will congregate.

Danish Women of Laurens to Meet.

Laurens, Dec. 1.—The members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Danish Lutheran church of Laurens will meet Wednesday, December 2, at the home of Mrs. O. Thompson, West Oneonta. All the members are urged to come as there is important business on hand to be attended to at this meeting.

Stage and Screen Stars Who Cook

One doesn't think of actresses as housewives. Their profession seems to place them apart from home-loving, home-making women. Yet many of them are as much as given to the pursuit of the housewife as the average American woman. Here is proof—in the form of their favorite recipes contributed by them to December Good Housekeeping, and tested by Good Housekeeping Institute:

Lenore Ulric's Corn-meal Muffins

Cream together one-half cupful of butter and one-half cupful of sugar. Then add two eggs well-beaten. Sift together, one and one-half cupfuls each of bread flour and corn-meal, one and one-half teaspoonsful of baking powder, and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Add the dry ingredients to the wet mixture alternately with one cupful of milk. Beat all together well. Then pour into hot greased muffin pans, filling them three-fourths full, and bake at 400° F. for twenty-five minutes.

Grace George's American Torte

Beat six egg-yolks well, and add one cupful of sugar slowly, and beat until light. Put two cupfuls of blanched almonds through the food-chopper, using a medium fine blade. Mix the almonds, one tablespoonful of bread crumbs, and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Add this to the first mixture, then fold in six egg-whites beaten stiff. Pour into greased, floured tart pan and bake in 325° F. oven for 50 minutes.

Perry O'Neil's Omelet on Surprise

Hard-cook three eggs, and when thoroughly cold, remove the shells. Coat the entire surface of the eggs with seasoned flour and then wrap each egg in uncooked sausage meat so that the eggs are thoroughly hidden.

One-half pound of sausage meat should be sufficient. Salt and pepper may be added to the sausage meat if necessary. Again roll the sausage meat in seasoned flour. Cut out six rounds of bread one-half inch thick, and sauté them until golden brown on both sides. Keep hot. Meanwhile fry the sausage eggs in deep fat at 350° F. for three minutes, or until the sausage meat is thoroughly cooked. Drain on absorbent paper and cut the eggs in halves. Stand one egg-half on each round of fried bread and serve as an entrée garnished with parsley.

Ruth St. Denis Chocolate Macaroons

Grind two-thirds cupful of almonds fine and grate three squares of chocolate. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff. Then fold into them the grated chocolate, ground almonds, one-half cupful of sugar, and three tablespoonsful of rice flour. Shake lightly into small balls and place on greased baking sheets a little distance apart. Bake at 325° F. for twenty minutes.

Gifts Varen's Camp at Laguna

For Camp at Laguna chop one shallot fine and sauté it in three tablespoonsful of butter until it is tender, but not too brown. Then add four tablespoonsful of flour, stirring constantly. When smooth and bubbling, add one-half cupful of the cream, one-half cupful of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and a few grains of pepper. Stir until smooth and thoroughly blended. Then add one pound of fresh slices of bread as there are guests, and turn off the stove. Pour them on one side only. Make a pile of one-half cupful of grated parmesan cheese, four tablespoonsful of butter and salt, and pepper, and pour to taste. Heap the toasted sides of the campouts with the cream mixture, then put an eighth of an inch layer of the paste on top. Place on a greased dish and bake in 325° F. oven until just delicately brown.

HOW CHINESE USE MONKEYS IN WAR

Training of the Animals Is Long and Arduous Task.

London.—The use of monkeys in warfare by the Chinese dates back to the time when the Mongolians captured Peking. The monkeys used are the "Wah-Wah," called after the peculiar call they make when angry. They are tall, always walk upright, and when fully grown are about 4 feet in height, says a writer in the Daily News.

The monkeys are captured when quite young and are kept in a small hut situated on a lonely plain. The training of the animals is a long and arduous task, and only such as the Chinese, with their infinite patience and utter disregard of time, would attempt.

The animal is let out of the hut at the end of a thin cord about ten feet long and made to go forward and take out of the ground a little flagstaff with a yellow flag on it. This flagstaff serves the center of three flagstaffs, the two outer flags being blue.

When the monkey brings back the yellow flag he is rewarded with food, but if he attempts to touch the blue flags the cord is drawn tight and he is chastised. Gradually the cord is lengthened, and after years of training the monkey is capable of going distances up to two miles and bringing back his colored flag.

Other monkeys are taught to take blue flags, others red, until an army commander is in possession of several hundred monkeys distinguished by the color painted on their backs.

Every Chinese division is distinguished by colored pennants carried by bannermen, soldiers noted for their bravery. When a commander wishes to make an attack and desires to strike terror into the enemy, he selects about 20 monkeys of the enemy's color. The animals are starved for several days and kept in a position where they can see the enemy.

The night of the attack the monkeys are covered all over with luminous paint and let loose. They immediately make their way over into the enemy's lines, where their appearance and the savage way in which they bite and scratch in their efforts to capture the flags strike terror in the heart of the enemy. When the commander hears the loud "Wah-Wah" of his beasts he knows the enemy are in confusion and launches his attack.

Oldest House in Germany

The oldest dwelling in Germany, possibly the oldest in Europe, is located in the little hamlet of Winkel, in the valley of the Rhine, and is 1,300 years old.

True

A physician says that the stomach has nothing to do with seasickness. Perhaps he is right, but seasickness has a good deal to do with the stomach.

More than 1,000,000 feet of motion picture film have been made by the United States Department of Agriculture to explain modern farming methods and machinery.

KORETZ IN CHICAGO WITH $12 IN MONEY

Career in Fake Oil Stocks Started 18 Years Ago by Accident, He Tells Police

Chicago, Dec. 1. — Lee Koretz, who fled from Chicago a year ago, with a large portion of the $7,000,000 that friends, relatives, and acquaintances had begged him to invest for them in a fake Panama oil scheme, returned today with 12 one-dollar bills in his pocket and the clothes he wore as his only apparent assets.

Tonight the promoter of the Bayano oil bubble who was arrested last week in Halifax, calmly related his method of promotion which caused the money to flow in so fast that he often took the cash of his friends and relatives under protest.

Koretz, after making what State Attorney Robert E. Crowe termed a clean breast of his operations, said that he did not expect to interfere with the course of justice in any way.

His dabbling in the fields of frenzied finance started 18 years ago purely by accident, he said, and ended just a year ago after the Bayano oil stocks had successfully rocketed to dizzy heights and fallen like a plummet until they scarcely represented the value of the paper on which the handsome certificates were printed.

ESTHONIA REVOLT QUELLED EASILY; MANY LIVES LOST

(By the Associated Press.)

Tallinn, Esthonia, Dec. 1. — A revolutionary movement in level today, engineered by Communists, was short-lived, but a heavy toll of life was taken in two hours of fighting. Theurrection has been suppressed; all is tranquil in the capital; and no disturbances are reported from other sections.

General Laine, the new commander in the chief of the army announced in the chamber tonight that five officers, three cadets, two soldiers and three policemen were killed, and three officers, seven cadets and three soldiers were severely wounded. In all, the wounded number 40 or more, and 60 Communists are under arrest.

PUPILS MARCH TO SAFETY.

New York, Dec. 1.—When fire of undetermined origin, which destroyed the three-story building of the Brooklyn Training school, was discovered tonight, the 116 boys were in the institution dining room were assembled and marched without disorder to an adjacent playground. One of the boys, who was ill in his room with a high fever was carried down a fire escape and taken to a hospital.

The loss was estimated at $50,000.

GASOLINE PRICE JUMPS.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1. — An advance of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline was announced today by the Atlantic Refining company, effective tomorrow in Pennsylvania and Delaware. The advance raises the price of motor gasoline at 18 cents and 45-70 grade at 21 cents, exclusive of Pennsylvania tax of two cents.

TORNADO STRIKES NICE.

Nice, France, Dec. 1. — A tornado swept the city at 4 o'clock this afternoon, lasting about 20 seconds, while a great waterspout appeared just on shore. A number of buildings were wrecked and about 70 persons were injured.

CAPITAL BREAKS DRY LAW.

Washington, Dec. 1. — Liquor law violations in the national capital detected by the Washington police totaled 14,615 in the last fiscal year. Nine thousand and thirteen persons were arrested for intoxication.

PRESIDENT'S RIGHT TO PARDON DEBATED IN SUPREME COURT

District Judges Say Power to Free One From Contempt Charge Interferes with Proper Work of Tribunal

Washington, Dec. 1. — The President's pardoning power was debated at length today by counsel in the supreme court.

The question was raised by Philip Grossman, who, by habeas corpus, appealed from an order of the federal district court at Chicago requiring him to serve a sentence for contempt notwithstanding a pardon by President Coolidge.

Counsel for the district judges, who refused to recognize the pardon as within the President's constitutional powers, insisted that the life of the judiciary was dependent upon its unfettered and complete authority, without executive interference, to enforce its decrees.

Should another branch of the government be permitted to intervene to save from punishment those who had violated injunctions issued by the courts, counsel asserted, the judicial power would be destroyed.

Attorney General Stone, appearing in the case at the special request of the President, made his first argument in court since becoming head of the department of justice. He asserted that the President's pardoning power must be determined by considering conditions which existed at the time the constitution was framed. Then, he said, it was the established practice for the courts to recognize that the executive had powers to pardon in all contempt cases.

Only one limitation was imposed by the constitution, Mr. Stone insisted, upon the President's power to grant pardons, and that applied only to cases of impeachment. This indicated, he held, that the framers of the constitution intended that in all other matters the President's pardoning authority was complete. It was also significant, he said, that the President was given the right by the constitution to restrict his pardoning field to "crimes" against the government. Had it been the intention to restrict his pardoning field to "crimes" against the government punishable under the criminal statutes, he argued, the constitution would have said so.

FURNACE MURDER STILL MYSTIFYING

Whether Probe Will Continue or Case Closed "Unsolved" Depends Upon Reports

Columbus, O., Dec. 1.—Whether the investigation into the Beasley furnace mystery will be continued or listed as an unsolved tragedy, will probably be determined tomorrow when the reports of chemist C. F. Long and pathologist H. M. Brundage are expected to be submitted to County Prosecutor John N. King, the prosecutor, indicated tonight.

The cremated body of Mrs. Addie Beasley, wife of Rev. C. V. Beasley, pastor of Christ Lutheran church of Beasley, a suburb, was removed from the furnace of the parsonage three weeks ago tonight.

Rev. Beasley, who is professor of religion in Capital university Beasley, today made his first public appearance before the student body since the tragedy. He expressed gratitude for the sympathy of his associates. The "Christian conduct" of his family has enabled it "to clear its skirts of suspicion of the foulest of crimes," he said.

MINERS GIVEN ULTIMATUM.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 1.—The executive board of district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America today served an ultimatum on the 12,000 striking miners of the Pennsylvania and Hillside Coal company, giving them until Wednesday morning to return to work. Failure to abide by the ruling of the board will result in the chartering of the nine locals of the Pennsylvania miners being revoked and the members expelled from the mine workers' order.

She Threw Away Calomel and took Beecham's Pills

"I felt so miserable," said the young woman cashier in a fashionable New Jersey hotel. "A friend suggested calomel and I was about to take it."

"Another friend noticed the calomel on my desk and cautioned me against it. She said her sister took calomel and ate some fruit and the combination 'salivated' her—loosened some of her teeth and made her very sick."

"Fearing that my stomach might be in an acid condition, I bought a box of Beecham's Pills and took a dose. The next day I felt fine and I haven't needed anything during the three weeks since."

"I wouldn't take anything but Beecham's now. Some of the other girls here take Beecham's and all say they are wonderful."

Sounds Produced by Fish Heard through Water Microphone

What sort of a noise does a fish make? This question has been answered in part, at least, as a result of experiments performed not long ago by dropping a water-tight microphone into the tanks at an English aquarium. Each tank seemed to give a different basic tone. With the exception, there were noises like the snapping of a watch case. The question as to whether fishes actually emit sounds other than those made in feeding, was not decided.

Land Skaters Run on Rough Ground

Feats that rival those of the ski jumper or snowshoe devotees are said to be possible on a new style of roller skate being manufactured for sportsmen in Germany. They have a broad support for the foot and three rubber-tired wheels, two in front and one behind, and are said to be well adapted to traveling over rough ground, a speed of seven and one-half miles an hour on uneven surfaces being common and ten miles an hour on pavements easily achieved.

Waterproofing Blueprints

To overcome the annoyance of having blueprints spotted by rain or moisture, the following simple plan is useful: Melt two or three cakes of refined paraffin, then immerse a number of absorbent cloths in the wax. Withdraw the cloths and allow them to drain. To treat a print, lay one of the cloths on a dry, smooth surface, place the print on top of it, then another cloth on top of the print, and iron the top cloth with a moderately hot flatiron. The paper immediately absorbs paraffin until saturated and becomes translucent and waterproof. This method is better than dipping the prints into the paraffin, which leaves too heavy a coating.

Effective Post Puller

The post-pulling device shown in the illustration is the simplest and quickest-acting he has ever seen, says a farmer. It consists of a discarded sleigh runner, provided with a chain, and a doubletree so that a team of horses can be hitched on, and a wooden lever with a sharp steel point, bolted to the runner as shown in this particular instance the point was the tip of a discarded plowshare. To pull a post, the runner is placed close beside it with the point of the lever driven into the post as shown. When the horses are then urged ahead

U. S. Tire Output Increasing

While the combined production of rubber tires for automobiles and motorcycles in the principal countries of the world amounts to 54,000,000, more than four-fifths are consumed by vehicles in the United States. About 46,000,000 changeovers are manufactured here each year, of which a little over a million are exported. It is said that this difference is due to the number of machines in this country.

A car of tire discarded in a basket of burning tires will cause chain pipes of trucks and other engine motor.

London.—The use of monkeys in warfare by the Chinese dates back to the time when the Mongolians captured Peking. The monkeys used are the "Wah-Wahs," called after the peculiar call they make when angry. They are tailless, always walk upright, and when fully grown are about 4 feet in height, says a writer in the Daily News.

The monkeys are captured when quite young and are kept in a small hut situated on a lonely plain. The training of the animals is a long and arduous task, and only such as the Chinese, with their infinite patience and utter disregard of time, would attempt.

The animal is let out of the hut at the end of a thin cord about ten feet long and made to go forward and take out of the ground a little flagstaff with a yellow flag on it. This flagstaff forms the center of three flagstaffs, the two outer flags being blue.

When the monkey brings back the yellow flag he is rewarded with food, but if he attempts to touch the blue flag the cord is drawn tight and he is chastised. Gradually the cord is lengthened, and after years of training the monkey is capable of going distances up to two miles and bringing back his colored flag.

Other monkeys are taught to take blue flags, others red, until an army commander is in possession of several hundred monkeys distinguished by the color painted on their backs.

Every Chinese division is distinguished by colored pennants carried by bannermen, soldiers noted for their bravery. When a commander wishes to make an attack and desires to strike terror into the enemy, he selects about 20 monkeys of the enemy's color. The animals are started for several days and kept in a position where they can see the enemy.

The night of the attack the monkeys are covered all over with luminous paint and let loose. They immediately make their way over into the enemy's lines, where their appearance and the savage way in which they bite and scratch in their efforts to capture the flags strike terror in the heart of the enemy. When the commander hears the loud "Wah-Wah" of his beasts he knows the enemy are in confusion and launches his attack.

KORETZ IN CHICAGO WITH $12 IN MONEY

Career in Fake Oil Stocks Started 18 Years Ago by Accident, He Tells Police

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Lee Koretz, who fled from Chicago a year ago, with a large portion of the $2,000,000 that friends, relatives, and acquaintances had begged him to invest for them in a fake Panama oil scheme, returned today with 12 one-dollar bills in his pocket and the clothes he wore as his only apparent assets.

Tonight the promoter of the Bayano oil bubble who was arrested last week in Halifax, calmly related his method of promotion which caused the money to flow in so fast that he often took the cash of his friends and relatives under protest.

Koretz, after making what State Attorney Robert E. Crowe termed a clean breast of his operations, said that he did not expect to interfere with the course of justice in any way.

His dabbling in the fields of frenzied finance started 18 years ago purely by accident, he said, and ended just a year ago after the Bayano oil stocks had successfully rocketed to dizzy heights and fallen like a plummet until they scarcely represented the value of the paper on which the handsome certificates were printed.

ESTHONIA REVOLT QUELLED EASILY; MANY LIVES LOST

(By the Associated Press.)

Revel, Esthonia, Dec. 1.—A revolutionary movement in Revel today, engineered by Communists, was short-lived, but a heavy toll of life was taken in two hours of fighting. The insurrection has been suppressed, all tranquillity in the capital, and no disturbances are reported from other sections.

General Laineinen, the new commander in the chief of the army, announced in the chamber tonight that five officers, three cadets, two soldiers and three policemen were killed, and 300 soldiers were severely wounded. In all, the wounded number 40 or more, and 60 Communists are under arrest.

PUPILS MARCH TO SAFETY.

New York, Dec. 1.—When fire of undetermined origin, which destroyed the three-story building of the Brooklyn Training school, was discovered tonight, the 116 boys were in the institution dining room were assembled and marched without disorder to an adjacent playground. One of the boys, who was ill in his room with a high fever was carried down a fire escape and taken to a hospital.

The loss was estimated at $50,000.

GASOLINE PRICE JUMPS.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1.—An advance of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline was announced today by the Atlantic Refining company, effective tomorrow in Pennsylvania and Delaware. The advance raises the price of motor gasoline at 18 cents and 68-70 grade at 21 cents, exclusive of Pennsylvania tax of two cents.

PRESIDENT'S RIGHT TO PARDON DEBATED IN SUPREME COURT

District Judges Say Power to Free One From Contempt Charge Interferes with Proper Work of Tribunal

Washington, Dec. 1.—The President's pardoning power was debated at length today by counsel in the supreme court.

The question was raised by Philip Grossman, who, by habeas corpus, appealed from an order of the federal district court at Chicago requiring him to serve a sentence for contempt notwithstanding a pardon by President Coolidge.

Counsel for the district judges, who refused to recognize the pardon as within the President's constitutional powers, insisted that the life of the judiciary was dependent upon its unfettered and complete authority, without executive interference, to enforce its decrees.

Should another branch of the government be permitted to intervene to save from punishment those who had violated injunctions issued by the courts, counsel asserted, the judicial power would be destroyed.

Attorney General Stone, appearing in the case at the special request of the President, made his first argument in court since becoming head of the department of justice. He asserted that the President's pardoning power must be determined by considering conditions which existed at the time the constitution was framed. Then, he said, it was the established practice for the courts to recognize that the executive had powers to pardon in all contempt cases.

Only one limitation was imposed by the constitution, Mr. Stone insisted, upon the President's power to grant pardons, and that applied only to cases of impeachment. This indicated, he held, that in all other matters the President's pardoning authority was complete. It was also significant, he said, that the President was given the right by the constitution to pardon "offenses" against the government. Had it been the intention to restrict his pardoning field to "crimes" against the government punishable under the criminal statutes, he argued, the constitution would have said so.

FURNACE MURDER STILL MYSTIFYING

Whether Probe Will Continue or Case Closed "Unsolved" Depends Upon Reports

Columbus, O., Dec. 1.—Whether the investigation into the Beasley furnace mystery will be continued or listed as an unsolved tragedy, will probably be determined tomorrow when the reports of chemist C. F. Long and Pathologist H. M. Brundage are expected to be submitted to County Prosecutor John R. King, the prosecutor, indicated tonight.

The cremated body of Mrs. Addie Beasley, wife of Rev. C. V. Beasley, pastor of Christ Lutheran church of Beasley, a suburb, was removed from the furnace of the paragon three weeks ago tonight.

Rev. Beasley, who is professor of religion in Capital university Beasley, today made his first public appearance before the student body since the tragedy. He expressed gratitude for the sympathy of his associates. The "Christian conduct" of his family has enabled it "to clear its skirts of suspicion of the foulest of crime," he said.

MINERS GIVEN ULTIMATUM.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 1.—The executive board of district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America today served an ultimatum on the 12,000 striking miners of the Pennsylvania and Hillside coal company, giving them until Wednesday morning to return to work. Failure to abide by the ruling of the board will result in the charter of the nine locals of the Pennsylvania miners being revoked and the members expelled from the mine workers' order.

She Threw Away Calomel and took Beecham's Pills

"I felt so miserable," said the young woman cashier in a fashionable New Jersey hotel. "A friend suggested calomel and I was about to take it."

"Another friend noticed the calomel on my desk and cautioned me against it. She said her sister took calomel and ate some fruit and the combination 'salivated' her—loosened some of her teeth and made her very sick."

"Fearing that my stomach might be in an acid condition, I bought a box of Beecham's Pills and took a dose. The next day I felt fine and I haven't needed anything during the three weeks since."

"I wouldn't take anything but Beecham's now. Some of the other girls here take Beecham's and all say they are wonderful."

Sonar Produced by Fish Heard through Water Microphone

What sort of a noise does a fish make? This question has been answered in part, at least, as a result of experiments performed not long ago by dropping a water-tight microphone into the tanks at an English aquarium. Each tank seemed to give a different basic tone. With the exception, there were noises like the snapping of a watch case. The question as to whether fishes actually emit sounds other than those made in feeding, was not decided.

Land Skates Run on Rough Ground

Feats that rival those of the ski jumper or snowshoe devotees are said to be possible on a new style of roller skate being manufactured for sportsmen in Germany. They have a broad support for the foot and three rubber-tired wheels, two in front and one behind, and are said to be well adapted to traveling over rough ground, a speed of seven and one-half miles an hour on uneven surfaces being common and ten miles an hour on pavements easily achieved.

Inserting Pistol in Gun-Shift Lever, and Diagram Showing How It Could Be Used

Pistol Is Hidden in Auto Lever Ready for Quick Defense

Designed for instant use, a double-barreled 22-caliber pistol is contained in the detachable handle of an automobile gear-shift lever now manufactured in France. A quarter-inch turn of a metal band next to the knob separates the handle and pressure on a section of the stem discharges the weapon. The pistol is automatically cocked when the handle is released. An alternative model for the hand brake has also been placed on the market. Attached to any standard automobile, it is claimed that the weapon can be brought into action more quickly than the driver may have on his person.

U. S. Tire Output Increasing

While the combined production of rubber tires for automobiles and motorcycles in the principal countries of the world amounts to 24,000,000 more than 100,000 are consumed by vehicles in the United States. About 40,000,000 cases are manufactured here each year, of which a little over a million are exported. It is said that this difference is due to the number of machines in this country.

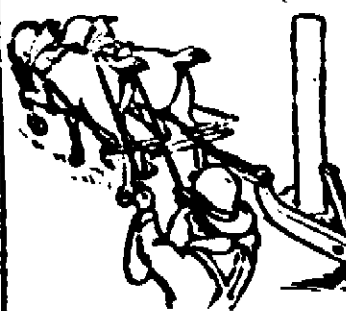

A gun of the type described in a basket of holding water will clear down pages of print and other organic matter.

Waterproofing Blueprints

To overcome the annoyance of having blueprints spotted by rain or moisture, the following simple plan is useful: Melt two or three cakes of refined paraffin, then immerse a number of absorbent cloths in the wax. Withdraw the cloths and allow them to drain. To treat a print, lay one of the cloths on a dry, smooth surface, place the print on top of it, then another cloth on top of the print, and iron the top cloth with a moderately hot flatiron. The paper immediately absorbs paraffin until saturated and becomes translucent and waterproof. This method is better than dipping the prints into the paraffin, which leaves too heavy a coating.

Effective Post Puller

The post-pulling device shown in the illustration is the simplest and quickest-acting he has ever seen, says a farmer. It consists of a discarded sleigh runner, pointed with a chain, and a doubletree so that a team of horses can be hitched on, and a wooden lever with a sharp steel point, fitted to the runner as shown; in this particular instance the point was the tip of a discarded plowshare. To pull a post, the runner is placed over the post, the point of the lever driven into the post as shown. When the horses are then urged ahead and the runner slides forward, the lever pulls out the post. The operation is repeated for each post. The absence of loose parts and the simplicity of table and chain make the device well worth the time and labor necessary to make it.
